The Council for the Built Environment (CBE) is a statutory body established under the Council for the Built Environment Act (No. 43 of 2000). It is a coordinating body for the six Councils for the Built Environment Professions - Architecture, Engineering, Landscape Architecture, Project and Construction Management, Property Valuation and Quantity Surveying - for instilling good conduct within these professions, transforming them and advising the South African government on built environment related issues.

The Council for the Built Environment Act mandates the CBE to promote and protect the interest of the public, and to ensure the uniform application of norms and guidelines set by the councils for the professions throughout the built environment. The CBE encourages all persons practising in the built environment to register with their relevant professional council, who may be contacted via the details provided below.
